How to apply for a Financial Aid Extension

Three Rivers College allows a student to receive financial aid for a maximum of 150 percent of the published program length or completion of a degree. If you have met one of the above limits you will need to apply for an extension of your financial aid each forthcoming semester that you will receive federal financial aid. You may review the Three Rivers Satisfactory Academic Progress policy online regarding the extension of your federal financial aid.

In order to apply for an extension of your financial aid for the next semester, go to trcc.edu and click the myTRCC link. After logging into myTRCC, select the Student Menu then click on “Plan Courses”, under the Academic Planning header on the right side of the page. Next, follow the “Course Planning Wizard” to complete the process. You may wish to meet with an advisor to complete this option. Once you complete this process and register for classes, just email cadams@trcc.edu to have your extension evaluated.

Please allow 10 business days for your extension to be evaluated. Once a decision has been determined an email will be sent to your MyMail (student email) account notifying you of the results.

Keep in mind, the new federal guidelines allow a student to receive Pell funds for up to 12 full time-equivalent semesters (two part-time semesters equal one full-time semester). An approved extension does not override the federal rules. If you have any questions regarding this email or the Three Rivers policy on Satisfactory Academic Progress, please email financialaid@trcc.edu.
