Inclement Weather and Hazardous Conditions

In order to protect the students and employees of the college in cases of inclement weather or hazardous conditions it may be necessary to sometimes cancel college activities.

Closure of the college will be declared when conditions are such that it would be unsafe for students or employees to attempt to go to work or class. In the case of inclement weather or hazardous conditions, only personnel essential to the safety and security of the campus (normally campus safety and facilities and appropriate administrative personnel) will be required to be at their workstations. All other college employees are required to obtain permission of the college president to enter the college facilities.

The college president has the authority to close the college due to inclement weather and/or natural disaster. Unless the conditions are extremely hazardous or the parking lot cannot be cleared, college activities will not be canceled. Administrative, professional, and support staff will be charged a day of vacation if they are absent when the college (or their off-campus site of employment) is open; faculty will be charged a personal day.

The final decision to close the college, cancel college activities or classes, or to take other appropriate actions in response to severe winter weather or hazardous conditions shall rest with the college president.
